Wonder Girls: Changing Our World is the first photographic book to document groups of activist girls (age 10 to 18) globally. It’s award winning and inspiring! Paola Gianturco and her eleven-year-old granddaughter documented the work of fifteen girl-led nonprofit groups in thirteen countries in Asia and Central Asia, North and Latin America, the Middle East, Africa and Oceania. They interviewed and photographed 102 girls. If you think "girls are the future," prepare to be dazzled. These girls are changing our world right now. Groups of activist girls age 10-18 are transforming our world: improving education, health, equality and the environment; stopping child marriage, domestic violence, trafficking and war. Their imagination and courage radiate through their stories, all told in their own words. In this book, you will watch girls lobby U.S. senators; see Mexican girls invent mobile phone apps to solve social problems; meet Malawian girls who convinced Parliament to outlaw child marriage. You will eavesdrop on Ugandan girls as they advocate for girls' rights at a UN meeting. And you will meet other girls as they write blogs, petitions, poetry, create radio shows, videos, invent dances, songs and works of art to promote their causes. Wonder Girls: Changing Our World is a call to action to help these girls accomplish their important work. Alex Sangster's sections, the finale of each chapter, tell you how. The book's Foreword was written by Musimbi Kanyoro, President and CEO of the Global Fund for Women, the world's largest grant-making organization that benefits women and girls internationally. The Global Fund for Women will receive 100% of the authors' royalties from this book.

Digital ist normal Sich und das eigene Studium auf einmal vom heimischen PC aus zu organisieren, klingt zunächst verlockend, ist aber ohne Frage eine große Herausforderung. Es fehlt der Austausch mit anderen Studierenden, Dozenten und Beratungsstellen vor Ort, die sonst so toll unterstützen bei der Organisation des eigenen Studiums. Gleichzeitig benötigt es eine große Portion Selbstmotivation! In den gemütlichen eigenen vier Wänden mit jeder Menge digitaler Ablenkung und ohne den ab und zu strengen Blick des Lehrenden ist der innere Schweinehund omnipräsent und gewinnt leider allzu oft die Oberhand. Wichtiger denn je für den Erfolg im Studium sind die Schlüsselkompetenzen Selbstorganisation, Zeitmanagement und Selbstmotivation. Der vorliegende Studienratgeber richtet sich an alle Studierenden, unabhängig von Fachrichtung oder Semester, die sich gerade im Mix aus digitalem und analogen Studienalltag zurechtfinden müssen. Mit wertvollen Tipps und Tricks behalten Sie in Ihrem hybriden Studium alles im Blick, lernen Ihre Zeit effektiv zu organisieren und bleiben stets motiviert!

A Polish survivor’s “brutal and beautifully written” Holocaust memoir. “The power of his portrayal of one man’s instinct for survival . . . cannot be denied” (The Boston Globe). The Cap is an unconventional Holocaust memoir that defies all moral judgment and ventures into a soul blackened by the unforgiving cruelty of its surroundings. Roman Frister’s memoir of his life before, during, and after his imprisonment in the Nazi concentration camps sparked enormous controversy and became an international bestseller. With bone-chilling candor, Frister illustrates how the impulse to live unhinges our comfortable notions of morality, blurring the boundary between victim and oppressor and leaving absolutely no room for martyrdom. By the time Roman Frister was sixteen, he had watched his mother murdered by an SS officer and he had waited for his father to expire, eager to retrieve a hidden half loaf of bread from beneath the dying man’s cot. When confronted with certain death, he placed another inmate in harm’s way to save himself. Frister’s resilience and instinct for self-preservation—developed in the camps—become the source of his life’s successes and failures. Chilling and unsentimental, The Cap is a rare and unadorned self-portrait of a man willing to show all of his scars. Reflected in stark relief are the indelible wounds of all twentieth-century European Jews. An exceptional and groundbreaking testimony, Roman Frister’s “gut-wrenching memoir is a must-read” (Kirkus Reviews). “Staggering in its honesty . . . Frister’s courage to plumb the ambiguity of his actions . . . leaves the reader awestruck.”

Wolfhilde's Hitler Youth Diary is the chronicle of a girl growing up in Munich during the most volatile time in world history. WHAT OTHERS HAVE SAID ABOUT THE DIARY For an in depth review of The Diary, please visit The Herald Palladium. Initially, the material upset me emotionally in an unexpected way. It took me some time to re-read the diary entries one by one to gain a calmer perspective. Of course, for 60 years or longer I have been aware of the strategies and tactics, the techniques and methods applied and utilized by the Nazi regime to contaminate and poison the minds and souls of people—beginning with children from the age of 10—with its fierce, all-embracing ideology. Never, before reading Wolfhilde’s Hitler Youth Diary, have I been confronted with such massive, monstrous evidence as to what the Nazi regime was doing to us—and how they did it. What is presented here in the diary of a girl from 13 through 21 years of age is a textbook example—concrete evidence—of how they did it. Wolfgang Schleich, 1928- Journalist. Retired since 1990 from Radio Free Europe, where he worked for almost 35 years as a reporter, editor, traveling correspondent and head of the network’s Berlin Bureau.

In today's increasingly diverse, global, interconnected business world, diversity and inclusion (D&I) is no longer just "the right thing to do," it is a core leadership competency and central to the success of business. Working effectively to combat unconscious bias across differences such as gender, culture, generational, race, and sexual orientation not only leads to a more productive, innovative corporate culture but also to a better engagement with customers and clients. The Inclusion Dividend provides a framework to tap the bottom-line impact that results from an inclusive culture. Most leaders have the intent to be inclusive, however translating that intent into a truly inclusive outcome with employees, customers, and other stakeholders requires a focused change effort. The authors explain that challenge and provide straightforward advice on how to achieve the kind of meritocracy that will result in a tangible dividend and move companies ahead of their competition.

A unique collection of competition problems from over twenty major national and international mathematical competitions for high school students. Written for trainers and participants of contests of all levels up to the highest level, this will appeal to high school teachers conducting a mathematics club who need a range of simple to complex problems and to those instructors wishing to pose a "problem of the week", thus bringing a creative atmosphere into the classrooms.

Equally, this is a must-have for individuals interested in solving difficult and challenging problems. Each chapter starts with typical examples illustrating the central concepts and is followed by a number of carefully selected problems and their solutions. Most of the solutions are complete, but some merely point to the road leading to the final solution. In addition to being a valuable resource of mathematical problems and solution strategies, this is the most complete training book on the market.

"Birthdays may be difficult for me." "I want you to take the initiative in opening conversations about my birth family." "When I act out my fears in obnoxious ways, please hang in there with me." "I am afraid you will abandon me." The voices of adopted children are poignant, questioning. And they tell a familiar story of loss, fear, and hope. This extraordinary book, written by a woman who was adopted herself, gives voice to children's unspoken concerns, and shows adoptive parents how to free their kids from feelings of fear, abandonment, and shame. With warmth and candor, Sherrie Eldridge reveals the twenty complex emotional issues you must understand to nurture the child you love--that he must grieve his loss now if he is to receive love fully in the future--that she needs honest information about her birth family no matter how painful the details may be--and that although he may choose to search for his birth family, he will always rely on you to be his parents. In his philosophical reflections on the art of lingering, acclaimed cultural theorist Byung-Chul Han argues that the value we attach today to the vita activa is producing a crisis in our sense of time. Our attachment to the vita activa creates an imperative to work which degrades the human being into a labouring animal, an animal laborans. At the same time, the hyperactivity which characterizes our daily routines robs human beings of the capacity to linger and the faculty of contemplation. It therefore becomes impossible to experience time as fulfilling. Drawing on a range of thinkers including Heidegger, Nietzsche and Arendt, Han argues that we can overcome this temporal crisis only by revitalizing the vita contemplativa and relearning the art of lingering. For what distinguishes humans from other animals is the capacity for reflection and contemplation, and when life regains this capacity, this art of lingering, it gains in time and space, in duration and vastness.

Der Tee Der Drei Alten Damen Springer Science & Business Media

This is the first English translation of the seminal book by Katharina Reiß and Hans Vermeer, Grundlegung einer allgemeinen Translationstheorie, first published in 1984. The first part of the book was written by Vermeer and explains the theoretical foundations and basic principles of skopos theory as a general theory of translation and interpreting or 'translational action', whereas the second part, penned by Katharina Reiß, seeks to integrate her text-typological approach, first presented in 1971, as a 'specific theory' that focuses on those cases in which the skopos requires equivalence of functions between the source and target texts. Almost 30 years after it first appeared, this key publication is now finally accessible to the next generations of translation scholars. In her translation, Christiane Nord attempts to put skopos theory and her own concept of 'function plus loyalty' to the test, by producing a comprehensible, acceptable text for a rather heterogeneous audience of English-speaking students and scholars all over the world, at the same time as acting as a loyal intermediary for the authors, to whom she feels deeply indebted as a former student and colleague.

Yeah, Friedrich Glauser ist ab heute legal! Friedrich Charles Glauser (* 4. Februar 1896 in Wien; + 8. Dezember 1938 in Nervi bei Genua) war ein Schweizer Schriftsteller. Friedrich Glauser gilt neben August Gottlieb Meißner als einer der ersten deutschsprachigen Krimiautoren. Zwischen Flucht und Internierung gab es in F. Glausers Leben eine Konstante: das Schreiben. Es ist mir, auch wenn es mir schlecht gegangen ist, immer gewesen, als hätte ich etwas zu sagen, was außer mir keiner imstande wäre, auf diese Art zu sagen. Sein Thema waren die kleinen Leute. Immer wieder zeichnete er Figuren, die keine Chance haben, als asozial abqualifiziert und durch Verwehr- und Internierungsmaßnahmen der Gesellschaft aus den Augen geschafft werden. Der Einzelne versucht durchzukommen, scheitert aber an den Machtstrukturen der Gesellschaft. F. Glauser war der erste deutschsprachige Schriftsteller, der sich ernsthaft mit dem Kriminalroman auseinandersetzte. Mit seinem Konzept der Atmosphäre hat er das Genre grundlegend erweitert und ihm neue Tiefe gegeben. Seine Krimis stehen am Anfang der Entwicklung dieser Gattung im deutschsprachigen Raum und er wird zu Recht als der Vater des deutschsprachigen Kriminalromans bezeichnet. Den "Tee der drei alten Damen" liest Glauser in Genf spielen. Selber lebte er einige Jahre in dieser Stadt, besser gesagt in den Heilanstalten und Irrenhäusern dieser Stadt. Aber er war offenbar ein sehr aufnahmefähiger Mensch, kannte das Stadtgespräch, die Politik und die Kulturszene. Unter dem Eindruck des Völkerbundes, der nach dem ersten Weltkrieg seinen Hauptsitz in Genf hatte, mischte Glauser in diesem ersten deutschen Kriminalroman sein ganz eigenes Giftchen aus Spionage, Parapsychologie, Geldgier, Okkultismus und Kriminologiekunde. Ein junger Mann wird mit Anzeichen einer Vergiftung spät nachts auf einem Platz im Herzen Genfs gefunden. Im Spital stirbt er kurz darauf. Nur wenige Tage später stirbt ein Apotheker ebenfalls an einer Vergiftung. Im Verdacht steht ein prominenter Professor, der in der Stadt viel Ruhm genießt, jedoch seit einiger Zeit auch morphiumstüchtig ist. Zu beiden Toten hielt er engen Kontakt. Simpson O'Key, Agent der britischen Krone, mischt sich, getarnt als Zeitungsreporter, in die Ermittlungen der Polizei ein. Bald schon findet er heraus, dass ein Maharadscha eines indischen Randstaates in Genf ist, um seine Quellen zu verkaufen. Die Verträge mit den Engländern scheinen schon aufgesetzt zu sein, aber auch die Russen haben Interesse. Und er hört Gerüchte über drei alte Damen, die Männer zum Tee einladen.

Recommender systems (RS) are intended to assist consumers by making choices from a large scope of items. By recommending items with a high likelihood of suiting a consumer's needs or preferences, they are able to considerably mitigate the information overload problem at the user's side, thus increasing their trust in, satisfaction with, and loyalty to RS providers, such as online shops, internet music catalogs, and online DVD rental services. However, recommendations are prone to errors and often fail to address consumers' context specific needs. Explanations of the underlying reasons behind recommendations can allow users to handle algorithmic errors in recommendations and to better judge their suitability for the users' current decision contexts, thus increasing the choice efficiency and effectiveness. The latter, in turn, increases the users' acceptance of and satisfaction with RS, as well as it positively affects consumers' trust in, loyalty to, and credibility of RS providers. However, in order for these benefits of explanation facilities to surface, they should explain the recommendations in such terms that the consumers themselves use when evaluating their choices. The latter sets restrictions upon recommendation algorithms constraining them with respect to how recommendations should be produced and what information they should rely on. This interaction between RS and explanation facilities, however, was not covered by recent research on RS. Therefore, the aim of the current thesis is to narrow this gap and to develop a recommendation technique that accounts for the concurrent objectives of RS, i. e., a method which is capable of providing both accurately predicted recommendations and actionable explanations of the reasons behind them, so that the recommendation process is aligned with the user preference structures.
